

COAL MINERS STRIKE AS A PROTEST AGAINST ORDER BARRING THE "CHECK-OFF" SYSTEM

PREMIER OF ULSTER TO BE CALLED TO PARLEY

LONDON, November 2.—Negotiations relative to peace in Ireland have progressed to a point which makes necessary the presence in London of Sir James Craig, the premier of Ulster, it was declared here this morning. Political correspondents of London newspapers today centered their attention upon the Ulster question, and speculated whether Sir James would soon join in the conversations going forward here.

There were pessimistic rumors current here last night, concerning the Irish negotiations, but there were no developments, as far as known, to justify the opinion that the situation was either better or worse than it had been during the past few days.

The absence of any definite prospect of an immediate settlement would obviously lessen the chance of Prime Minister Lloyd-George sailing on the Aquitania which leaves on Saturday for the United States. Some papers were positive in their statements that Mr. Lloyd-George had abandoned all idea of starting on Saturday, although he was still determined to go as soon as possible.

LONDON, November 2.—There was reason to believe today that a plan of settlement of the Irish question has been drafted and is being discussed by the committee representing the government and the Irish delegations, which now is exercising the chief functions of the Irish conference.

Aside from the recent formal meetings of the committee and of the conference as a whole, there have been more intimate explorations of the situation at private meetings, at which representatives of each side, accompanied by mutual friends, have talked freely in conversations which are understood to have bound none of the participants to any definite line of action.

Farmer Slain By Bandits In A Bank

JONESBORO, ARK., November 2.—Marion Light, a farmer, was shot and killed and two other men were wounded during a gun battle in a bank at Alicia, Ark., 25 miles west of this city, between a party of three bandits and bank officials and employees today. Light and the two men wounded were in the lobby of the bank and were struck by stray bullets. The bandits, whose attempt to rob the bank was foiled by a bank employee, who opened fire with a shot gun, escaped in an automobile.

From $58 To $156 A Month

BY BOB DORMAN

Ford efficiency means happier employes on the D. T. & L. J. F. Stevens was a crossing watchman at Detroit when Henry Ford bought the railroad. He drew $58 a month and worked every day. Now he makes $156 a month and has every Sunday off. Since Ford showed Stevens how he could do it, he not only tends the crossings, but sweeps the walkways, does odd carpenter jobs, polishes the trucks and otherwise makes himself useful. "Not a minute is wasted any more," says Stevens. And how he likes it!

Legion Insists On Early Payment Of Bonus

Legion Outlines Policies In Numerous Resolutions

KANSAS CITY, MO., November 2.—The national convention of the American Legion this afternoon adopted the report of its resolutions committee.

After deleting a section severely attacking Colonel George Harvey, American ambassador to Great Britain for a recent speech on the reasons why America went into the war and substituting a resolution couched in less drastic language.

Opposition to the release of Eugene V. Debs, serving a term in the Atlanta federal prison, for violation of wartime laws, was also declared.

Deep regret over the untimely death of the late national Legion Commander Colonel Frederick W. Galbraith, Jr., was voiced in one resolution and another contained a greeting to former President Wilson, expressing hope for his speedy and complete recovery.

The points touched on in the other resolutions are:

Commending publication of slacker

lists by the government.

Favoring memorialization of highways, streets and parks, etc.

More reverent observance of Memorial Day.

Pledging support to the American Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association.

Thanking the railroads of the country for granting a reduced rate for the national convention.

Appointment of a committee to bring about the expansion of the Legion in foreign countries.

U. S. CONSIDERS ANGLO-JAPANESE ALLIANCE MENACE TO AMERICA

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright 1921, by The Portsmouth Daily Times)
In this the third of a series of significant dispatches, David Lawrence, the famous Washington correspondent, tells why the United States considers the alliance between Japan and Great Britain as a menace to America and the inside story of how the coming conference on armament happened to be called.

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.—The United States has never liked the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Republican and Democratic administrations alike have felt that alliances only led to dangerous misunderstandings. Europe has revealed the mischief which a system of alliances develops. The formation of an alliance in Central Europe between Germany, Austria-Hungary and Italy was offset only by an entente cordiale between Great Britain, France and Russia. It led to war.

But the objection to the Anglo-Japanese alliance has not been merely that it sets up England the greatest naval power in the world, as a working partner of Japan with whom America has been having in recent years some troublesome disputes. It is that spurred on by the knowledge of such a partnership, the Japanese have assumed an attitude toward China wherein American, French, British, German and Russian interests were likely to be permanently injured. Of course, for the moment, Germany and Russia are out of it but essentially it is the grouping of Europe and America on the one hand and Japan on the other. Would England stand by her European friends and her American kinsmen and would she bring Japan within the circle of international concord and compel her military leaders to refrain from acts which would ultimate domination of China and Eastern Asia? Would England help or hinder the task of making Japan play the game on a plane of equality with other nations? Would Japan pledge herself to help restore the sovereignty of China which has become the outspew of nations?

Great Britain has insisted that her alliance prevented her from making protests to Japan. It has been left to the United States alone to keep a vigilant eye on Japanese pretensions.

RENTALS SOAR HIGHER

BY HARRY HUNT

WASHINGTON—Home rentals in the United States are still on the increase.

This despite definite reductions in the cost of labor, materials, fuel and other elements entering into the construction or maintenance of rental properties.

In a detailed survey of rental rates and other chief factors in the average man's family budget, covering 32 cities, government investigators find that home rents today average about 9 per cent higher than on Dec. 1, 1920, and 60 per cent higher than in 1913.

In New York they have climbed 6 per cent, in Cleveland, 3; in Cincinnati, 13; in Memphis, 11; in St. Louis, 12.

The 9 per cent increase in rental rates are in the face of an average decline in other living costs of 16 per cent from the cost of living level of December, 1920.

Of 24,351,676 families in the United States in 1920, 12,943,598 occupied rented homes.

The total bill for home rents in this country today is close to $3,000,000,000 a year more than in 1913.

The following table shows the percentage of increase in food, clothing, rent and fuel over pre-war prices:

WARMER WEATHER

BACK OF STORM

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 2.—The storm which brought rains and cooler weather yesterday and last night over the northeastern quarter of the country, was described by the weather bureau today as central off the New Jersey coast.

Storm warnings were displayed early today along the New England coast, but the bureau said the outlook was generally fair weather tonight and Thursday east of the Mississippi river. Temperatures will be lower to-night in the Atlantic states. The bureau said, but will rise to-night in Indiana, Kentucky and lower Michigan and on Thursday in the upper Ohio valley and the lower lake region.

MILITANT ORGANIZATION OF DEMOCRATS IS NEW CHAIRMAN'S PROGRAM

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 1.—Developments of the Democratic national committee into the "most militant and efficient organization" within its capacity and dissemination of facts concerning the "shortcomings" of the present national administration before the average citizen, is, in brief, to be the policy of Cordell Hull, the new Democratic chairman, as outlined to the Associated Press. Mr. Hull expects to leave late today for Washington, arriving there tomorrow evening.

The first step in administering the affairs of the committee will be to pay off the present indebtedness and create a good atmosphere in which to work. We shall try to pay all debts at an early date.

We shall also proceed at once with establishment of a systematic and thorough organization in the various states and counties. In this same connection, we shall strive to maintain an efficient publicity bureau to get unbiased and accurate facts relating to the shortcomings of the Republican administration before the average citizen.

People have been fed upon a vast amount of misrepresentation, misinformation and falsehoods concerning the true record of the Democratic administration covering the period since 1918. Subsequent events and daily happenings have exploded a vast number of these falsehoods which at times were very dangerous.

To Develop Militant Organization
"We shall make every possible effort to develop the Democratic national committee into the most militant and efficient organization within our power to do so."

The Democratic party yesterday chose former congressman Cordell Hull of Cartersville, Ga., as chairman of its national committee to succeed George H. White of Marietta, Ohio, who retired to the party ranks there to help in the struggle for the ideals of democracy.

Hull Compromise Selection
The change in leadership which had been held by Mr. White since July, 1920, when he assumed the chairmanship at the call of former Governor James M. Cox of Ohio, the party's nominee for president, was assured yesterday when it was announced that all elements of the party had agreed upon former Assistant Secretary of State Brucebridge Long or Mr. Hull.

Mr. Long's ultimate selection was contingent, however, upon the building of a graft exposure of the Lockheed investigation committee.

COURT ORDER BREAKS EXISTING WAGE PACT, SAY UNION OFFICIALS

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 2.—Work in the Indiana coal fields was practically at standstill today as a result of walkouts of twenty thousand men employed at approximately 300 mines in the state, according to reports received at union headquarters at Terre Haute.

P. H. Penn, of the Indiana bituminous coal operators' association in a statement today took issue with President John L. Lewis and other union officials whether obedience of the injunction would result in violation of a contract between miners and operators, asserting that both parties were bound by any decision of a federal court.

COLUMBUS, O., November 2.—Lee Hall, president of the United Mine Workers of Ohio, has called a meeting of the Ohio executive board, composed of 11,000 members, for Thursday, when it will be decided what action miners, if any, will take in the event the injunction of Federal Judge A. B. Anderson, of Indianapolis, against the check-off system is enforced.

No action had been taken by Ohio operators up to Tuesday night.

ATHENS, O., November 2.—Six coal mines in the Hocking Valley district, employing approximately 1,000 men, were not in operation this morning according to reports received here no formal strike order was issued. It was said, the miners discontinuing work upon receipt of news of Judge Anderson's ruling at Indianapolis abolishing the "check-off" system. The six mines are located at IRONTON, Nov. 2.—The Tanks would have been a better name for the visitors Sunday. The tanked up rovers from down at the flood wall were loud and rough. There were about a dozen of the motley crew on the side lines.

The Portsmouth Times says that the Tanks lost their temper. We hate to read what The Times would say if all these penalties had been imposed on their team. They would be calling for Judge Landis to investigate.

A Nation-wide Stage Success Now a Charles Ray Triumph

"Mother—I lied to you"

Stone-cold, stone-broke, despairing, disillusioned, Hosiah Howe came back to the little home in Peaceful Valley. By day he had trudged the streets of stifling cities and by night he had scanned the misty figures in murky by-ways, peering hopefully into painted faces, searching for the little sister who thought she understood the world — the flesh — the devil!

Drama—real, sheer drama! And on top of it comes a laugh that whips back the tears just in time.

IN SESSION

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 8.—The American delegates to the armament conference were again in session today with Secretary Denby and the group of naval advisors. There was no information available as to the specific subjects the delegates have under consideration, but it has been assumed that their work had to do with the question of policies upon which an acceptable program of limitation of naval armaments might be founded.

The state department has received no official intimation of any change in the plans of Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain to attend the conference if the situation in England permitted. It was emphasized, however, that there has always been the possibility that the premier might not be able to leave England and in consequence officials here have felt no certainty of his attendance.

GOING IN COCONUTS.

In the last few years a strong and growing interest has developed in coconut culture in the Philippine Islands. Not only are the native planters awakening to the advantages of modern methods, but foreign capital and enterprise see a prosperous future in the industry. It is virtually impossible for the prospective planter to either purchase or lease a bearing coconut grove, but large areas of virgin land are available for new plantations, more especially in the Moro province, where conditions are ideal for coconut culture.

WOMAN USES CLUB IN AN ATTEMPT TO DRIVE AWAY OFFICERS

and grabbing a hickory club attempted to drive the officers away. This demonstration resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Woodson for interfering with the officers and she was locked up at the city prison. The officers then returned and set her furniture into the street.

In Municipal court later Mrs. Woodson in explanation of her conduct told the court that she thought the officers were merely fooling and it was with much difficulty that Judge Sprague impressed upon her that it was not a joking matter. The woman caused peals of laughter among the spectators in the courtroom by her answer to queries piled to her by the court. At one time she declared she was waiting for her husband to pay the rent but when the court reminded her that she no longer had a husband, the latter having recently secured a divorce, she expressed, surprise, although admitting she was present at the trial. On her promise to secure another place to live Mrs. Woodson was dismissed.

Death Claims Capt. Wiley B. Dawson

Captain Wiley Evans Dawson passed away Wednesday morning at his home in San Diego, California.

This news which will be learned of here with genuine regret by his country friends, was received by the grief-stricken mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Dawson, of 1215 Third street. While her son had been in poor health for some time, yet the news of his death was a cruel shock to her.

Captain Dawson, who was born and reared in Portsmouth, was 27 years old on September 5 last. He was a son of the late Judge James W. M. Dawson and Mrs. Elizabeth Dawson, who with the following five brothers and one sister, survive: Norbertine, James, Earl, Kline and Paul, at home, and Miss Vina Dawson, of Washington, D. C.

On 1909, Captain Dawson married Katherine Adams and his faithful wife and two children, Katherine, aged 11, and James Wiley, Jr., aged nine, survive also.

Captain Dawson graduated from West Point in 1907 with high honors. Before going to this famous military school, he graduated from the Portsmouth High School and was a member of the 1902 class. His death marks the first death in this class, which has met each year and is planning for a big home coming among its members. On account of ill health, Captain Dawson was retired from the U. S. Army in 1915. In 1916 he paid home folks and friends here a visit and apparently was on the road to recovery. In 1916 he and his family moved to San Diego and had since resided there. During the World War Captain Dawson was unable to get active service, owing to his impaired health, but he offered his services and was assigned to a majorship in the commissary department at the Aviation Field, San Diego. He also held the position of military instructor at the San Diego High School.

Captain Dawson was an exemplary young man and the news of his death will bring sorrow to the hearts of many of his former associates and acquaintances. They feel that if he had retained his former good health, he would have risen high in the military family of the U. S. A. He was a natural born soldier, and took a wonderful interest in military affairs.

Captain Dawson was happily married and his wife is grief-stricken over the death of her husband.

Purdy Bros. flour mill was destroyed at the same time and an action against the railroad company for this loss is pending in the United States District Court at Cincinnati.

Keep Your Heart Pumping Pure Blood

World Diseases in the Blood. Causes Many Forms of Rheumatism, Skin Disorders, and A Lowered Vitality

How to Clear Your Blood of Waste Products

Now, where does this poison come from? Now listen: When you drink water, you have to drink water, and ever in sluggish water there is a deposit of waste products. When we drink enough pure water, our kidneys cannot properly function; when we fail to take regular exercise, our skin becomes congested.

As a result, waste products get into the blood. Ill health sets in. You lose your strength and vitality, or you may have rheumatic pains in the muscles and joints; or you may be troubled with pimples, bad boils, acne, or some other skin eruption. All because of the poisonous waste products in the blood. Nature then needs water. She has done her best, but is failing.

Your blood is your fountain source of energy—therefore keep your heart pumping pure blood. Get the waste products out of your blood and your health will rapidly improve.

For over 50 years, thousands and thousands of men and women have recommended S. S. S. to clear their blood of waste products. S. S. S. will improve the quality of your blood by relieving you of the waste products which cause impoverished blood and its allied troubles—skin disorders, rheumatism and a lowered vitality.

S. S. S. may be had at any drug store. Beware of substitutes. Write to Chief Medical Director, Swift Specific Co., 716 S. S. S. Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga., and let him help you regain your health and strength. Give him a full description of your case. He is helping people every day (without charge). Ask him to send you his illustrated booklet, "Facts About the Blood"—free. S. S. S. is sold at all stores. Advertisement.

To Present Cantata

The promises of the production of the beautiful sacred cantata "Ruth" at the First Presbyterian church, will be kept this next Sunday, thereby delighting many local music lovers, who have been awaiting this announcement since last spring.

The cantata will be given at four o'clock in the afternoon instead of at the evening hour, thus permitting many who have expressed a desire to hear it, to do so without interfering with their own church services.

"Ruth" will be sung by an augmented choir, in which will be found some of Portsmouth's best voices. Mrs. J. M. Stockham, whose work at the organ at First Church has been so impressive the past year, will direct the cantata as she has the others. Rehearsals have been going on with persistence for the past two months and the rendition will be one of which Portsmouth may well be proud.

For the convenience of those whose enjoyment is enhanced by the ability to choose a particular seat, the change of the service to the "vesper hour" is again emphasized, although those who have become regular attendants at these monthly musical affairs at First church know that one can hear equally well from any part of the house.

A cordial invitation is extended to all lovers of music to attend this service, next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Charles On His Way To Exile

RUDAPEST, November 2.—Former Emperor Charles today was to begin what appeared to be permanent exile. He and former Empress Zita left yesterday for Dunafeldvár, a town on the Danube below this city, where they went on board the British gunboat "Glowworm", arrangements having been made to land the erstwhile monarchs at Galatz, Rumania, a city about 100 miles from the mouth of the Danube. Preparations were being made here today for a special session of the Hungarian national assembly tomorrow at which time a resolution deposing the Hapsburg dynasty from the throne, will be presented. The assembly was convened by the government in response to an ultimatum from the allied powers, directing that all ties between the Hapsburg family and Hungary be formally severed.

An important "if."

We would all be great if we were measured by the things we intend to do tomorrow.

Your state of health largely depends upon the food you eat

No one who is physically ailing in any way can afford to take chances with the food he eats. For upon the selection of your food, and upon its perfect digestion and assimilation largely depends your state of health.

The most important thing in connection with the digestibility of any cereal food is the way it is prepared—and the length of time it is cooked or baked.

Grape-Nuts, the rich cereal food made from whole wheat flour and milled barley, is probably baked longer than any other cereal food.

A large part of the starch of the wheat and barley is changed into dextrin and grape-sugar in preparing Grape-Nuts. This is one reason why Grape-Nuts is so easily digested by even the most delicate people.

Grape-Nuts is wheat and barley so processed as to make it delicious and appetizing; even young children thrive on it and grow strong and rosy.

Go to your grocer today and get a package of Grape-Nuts. Eat it as a cereal with milk or cream, or make it into a delicious pudding. It will be enjoyed and relished by every member of the family.

After singing "More Love to Thee," the secretary's report was read by Mrs. E. C. McCoy. This was followed by Mrs. W. T. Gray's class of Bigelow church braved the inclement weather of Monday night to attend the annual Holloween party, held at the home of Miss Bertha Bodmer, 1820 Grant street. Games, music and various other diversions helped pass the time, and at a late hour a delicious supper was served by the hostess, assisted by the committee in charge.

Howard Taft and President Warren G. Harding. There are so many famous men living in Ohio that it would take up too much space to mention all of them. If the government should die the Lieutenant governor would become governor. The usual and most commonly accepted solution as to why Ohio is called the Buckeye State is that it originates from the buckeye tree, which is found abundantly in Ohio. Because of its adaptation to the wants of their early pioneers it was highly prized by them. It was well known to the Indians from whose language comes its name, "Hickuck," meaning the eye of a buck. I wish all school boys and girls would clip this information out for future use in their examinations, as it will not be published again.

Dear Dolly Wise—Please publish in your column about the homestead claim. Would like all particulars and where they are located. Also how they are to be managed.

Dear Miss Wise—You have helped so many others that I am coming to you for advice. I have been engaged to a man for several years and love him dearly. For five long years I have devoted myself to him and have refused to go with other boys fearing to offend him, because he is so jealous. Lately I have discovered that he goes out with other girls and never told me anything about it. I do not think this is fair for him to go with others and not permit me to do the same. Now Dolly, would you go out with other friends or not? Or shall I continue to go on devoting myself to a man who does not appreciate what I am doing for him? We do not know when we will be married, if ever, as our wedding date has never been set. I do try to be faithful to him and you see the result. What is your best advice on this subject? WORRIED FIANCÉE.

In the first place the man is too sure of you. My best advice is to remove the "suro" sign and keep him guessing. He feels that because he has been engaged to you, he can do just as he pleases, but he is too narrow and selfish to allow you to do the same. I most assuredly would go out with other friends if he goes out with other girls. I cannot see that such a man will make a good husband. As I visualize the future for you I see you sitting at home alone most of the time while he is out having a good time with his friends. Stop being a doormat for him. Do not allow him to call when he asks to. He will respect and love you more, if he is made to feel that you are mysterious and a little difficult to understand.

A Woman's Message to Women:

DODGERSVILLE, ILL.

"I thought I would write to let you know how I am getting along since I have been using your wonderful Remedy. I have been a sufferer of female disorders for 15 long years and have tried many remedies, but none of them have been of any use. As a fact I did not know of your medicine and the beginning of my ill health I did not even know what to do. I just forced you to take my remedies. Now I am a God-send to me and I am at liberty to publish my letter to you."

"I wish to write to tell how much good your treatment has done me. I have been suffering from a bad case of sciatica for 15 years and have tried many remedies, as I was bedfast when I began to use it, and my doctor said I would never get well until I never gave up, but I did not know of your medicine and the beginning of my ill health I did not even know what to do. I just forced you to take my remedies. Now I am a God-send to me and I am at liberty to publish my letter to you."

The crisis came at the time the Dominion premiers were in session. The British government didn't want to offend Japan by publicly refusing to renew the Anglo-Japanese Alliance. What would be the good of that, it was argued? It would only drive Japan into an attitude of hostility.

Japan Feared

Britain and America

Japan need not fear impoverished Russia or helpless Germany. She need only be concerned about Great Britain and the United States. Financially distressed as is the British empire, Japan might feel herself capable of going it alone in the Far East. Britain was too much absorbed in domestic troubles to distract Japan's pretensions while the United States was not inclined to go to war over China's plight. She was too far away and her people were already sick of war expenditure. Japan, however, had expended little money during the war and was near enough to China to offer the Japanese imperialist golden opportunity for commercial gain by exploiting China's resources.

Ask U. S. To Help

Great Britain counseled against the abrupt cancellation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. Couldn't some other way be found to accomplish the same end and at the same time prevent Japanese aggression? Diplomacy moves in strange ways its wonders to perform. Couldn't the United States lead a helping hand?

Just about the same time that the Imperial Conference was meeting in London and the premier of Canada was expressing himself frankly on the subject of renewing the Anglo-Japanese alliance, public sentiment in the United States was being marshaled in favor of a reduction of armament. Senator Borah's pleas were being heard. The tax burden was so heavy that the calling of an armament conference to stop the race in armaments was advocated on every side. President Harding didn't favor the Borah resolution, but it limited the conference merely to Great Britain, the United States and Japan. He insisted that it ought to include all the major powers.

Armament Parley Broached

Then it was that an unwritten but significant chapter developed in London. President Harding admitted publicly that he had been sounding out the powers on the subject of an armament conference. Ambassador Harvey was entrusted with that mission. America wanted an armament conference called—England wanted something done about Far Eastern problems, she was anxious that a graceful way be found to lead her out of the dilemma in connection with the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance if it had been decided, would remain in effect for at least another year, or even more unless specifically abrogated.

What more natural thing than to have Prime Minister Lloyd George or Lord Curzon, foreign secretary, sit down with Ambassador Harvey and say something like this to him: "Why call a conference on armament when we know that we can't reduce our navies till there is an agreement on diplomatic questions especially."

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes and the ankles, without soreness or irritation.—Advertisement.

ly in the Far East?" America interested in Pacific. To which Ambassador Harvey might with propriety have said:

"That's very true, we too are concerned with what happens in the Pacific—many of our own people are openly saying the next war will be with Japan. We would like to see Far Eastern questions settled so that American business enterprise will have an equal opportunity alongside Japanese, British or French business as the case may be."

And the British statesmen might have continued thus:

"Fine, if the president of the United States calls a conference on armament and there is a discussion of Far Eastern questions in connection with it, we will not object. The initiative will come from the United States and we will not be in the position of offending Japan."

Publicity Bungled

So President Harding issued the call. Curious enough the publicity was somewhat bungled, that is from the European viewpoint—something that doesn't happen often. Before the formal call was issued by President Harding—two days to be exact—Prime Minister Lloyd George almost let the cat out of the bag by referring mysteriously to a diplomatic note which had been sent to the powers and to which replies were expected before the next move in Anglo-Japanese situation could be discussed. It had been hoped that informal soundings might develop whether Japan would come into such a conference and then formal announcement could be made.

Japan Forced In

But it didn't work out that way. Mr. Harding issued the call and gave the facts at once to the press: Japan might have been debating still whether to enter an international conference on Far Eastern questions if the discussion had been kept secret. With invitations issued to the major powers of the world, Japan could not afford to quibble and hesitate. She was compelled by world opinion to enter the conference.

Meanwhile Prime Minister Lloyd George went out of his way to laud the "initiative" of President Harding and Premier Briand said the same thing in the French parliament, all of which was designed to remove any suspicion that the British were trying to start a world parley which would do away with the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Yet that is the cold fact. Sooner or later Japan will realize that when America projected Far Eastern questions in the conference on limitation of armaments, that act sealed the doom of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, though it might well be said that Canada and Australia had already made it impossible for the British government to keep the pact much longer.

In any event, the issuance of the call for a conference on Far Eastern questions simply revived the whole controversy which has been intermittently bothering European chancelleries for more than two decades, ever since Secretary Hay tried to establish the "open door" policy and ever since the Shantung dispute at the Paris conference gave China on the one hand a chance to lay her case conspicuously before the world while Japan stood off and made plans to take advantage of the disintegration of Russian unity and the Siberian debacle.

Militant

Mr. White on his arrival here yesterday announced that he would not resign, regardless of the opposition of certain people to him, unless a man could be found on whom all could agree. Mr. White and his supporters took a stern position and showed signs of fight.

At a conference the names of Mr. Long and Mr. Hill as compromise candidates were put forward by the opponents of Mr. White and were declared acceptable by Senator Hart of Mississippi as Chairman White's representative.

Selection a "Happy One"

The retiring chairman announced that Mr. Hill's selection was a "very happy one", asserting that he had not been closely allied with any of the candidates at the San Francisco convention.

Reports that Daniel C. Roper, former internal revenue commissioner, is to make claimant of the national executive committee in accordance with the economic agreement on the chairmanship could not be verified.

The resolution then stated that in spite of arguments advanced in opposition to the measure, the Legion still believed in its "immediate necessity" and concluded by stating the organization reaffirmed its stand upon adjusted compensation and asked the United States to pass the measure without further delay.

The convention paused in its work for a short time to hear addresses by Charles Bertrand of France, president of the Inter-allied veterans' association, an organization made up of all allied ex-service men, and R. B. Maxwell, of the great war veterans' association of Canada.

BENJAMIN H. KAUFFMAN,
Reading, Pa.

"There's no doubt in my mind that Tadie saved my wife's life," was the positive statement of Benjamin H. Kauffman, 505 Broadway St., Reading, Pa., popular clothing salesman for the well-known firm of Croll & Keck.

He was almost desperate from worrying over her condition as she had suffered so long without getting relief from the doctor. Tadie, his wife, she doesn't show her age by twenty years and declares she never remembers feeling better in her life. Her health was failing steadily for a year as a result of catarrh of the stomach and I have never seen anybody suffer as much from indigestion and nervousness as she did.

"After a five weeks' course of Tadie she was like another person, and I'm firmly convinced that years have been added to her life. It makes me shudder now when I think what the result might have been if she hadn't taken Tadie in time."

Tadie is sold in Portsmouth by the Fisher and Streich Pharmacists and by leading druggists in every town.—Advertisement.

complaints, it was announced from the floor.

"There is pending in Congress a measure to provide adjusted compensation to the soldiers, sailors, and marines of the great war," the compensation resolution said.

This adjusted compensation measure provides for the payment of the nation's just obligations to the service men and women, for the financial and economic handicap suffered by them incident to their service.

"The nation should and is paying all of its other war debts and obligations.

"The obligation of the nation to its soldiers arises by reason of economic handicap suffered by them because of their service, which economic handicap is at this time felt with especial severity because of widespread general unemployment."

The resolution then stated that in spite of arguments advanced in opposition to the measure, the Legion still believed in its "immediate necessity" and concluded by stating the organization reaffirmed its stand upon adjusted compensation and asked the United States to pass the measure without further delay.

SCHOOLS

OTWAY GRADE AND HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING

This substantial building was erected under the PRESENT COUNTY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION. When Superintendent O. E. McCowan became County Superintendent Otway had a three-room, two-story, frame grade building and no High School. The Otway Board of Education recognized the necessity of BETTER SCHOOLS. With County Superintendent E. O. McCowan present at the meeting of the Board the matter was taken up and thoroughly discussed. The Board Members, Principal Jones and Superintendent McCowan talked the matter over with the PEOPLE. A MASS MEETING was held in the school house where questions were freely asked and answered satisfactorily, and a final agreement was made by which the Board of Education called an election for a bond issue in the amount of $2,000, which was carried almost unanimously, WITH NO CONTEST. (The other crowd will tell Superintendent McCowan a DISMISSED OF THE PEACE for doing his part in that, wouldn't they?) The plain, substantial, good looking building, with 6 rooms and basement under all with heating plant complete, was finished in due time; after the usual amount of hard work on the part of all concerned and a MODERN GRADE AND HIGH SCHOOL WAS ESTABLISHED. The Otway High School offers three years of work with a few elective subjects, it has two high school teachers and is equipped for both Domestic Science and Domestic Arts subjects which are well taught there. Thus, through the splendid co-operation of the Otway Board of Education, the people of Otway and the County Superintendent, a grade school was replaced by a modern grade and high school building of brick construction, and a grade school was supplanted by a grade and high school. Thus was an excellent school established and the door of opportunity in the way of a high school education opened to boys and girls where none had existed before; a door of opportunity not only for the boys and girls of Otway but for those of the neighboring townships as well. It was indeed fortunate for the people of Otway that they had been so wide awake and so unanimously willing to vote their bond issue at the time they did because not long after that the greatest misfortune befell them that has yet happened to any town in Scioto County, namely, the burning of more than half of their beautiful little village. But like Phoenix of old the Village rose from its ashes and a more beautiful little town with the splendid buildings and all can scarcely be found in the hills of Southern Ohio, and having their bond issue carried they were in position to build their new school building immediately and they did it. The people of Otway will doubtless on election day very strongly resent the continued accumulated attempts to discredit their County Superintendent. Many Boards of Education have their meetings at night. Superintendent McCowan has met with the Otway Board many times at night, gave them such assistance as they needed in their work and drove to his home as usual at late hour after the meeting. Was this all accomplished by ONE-MAN POWER? Or rather by the right kind of co-operation among all concerned, Board of Education, Citizens and County Superintendent! And so the writer for the "trio of pretended reformers" MISREPRESENTS when he talks of dictation. The people of Otway are in favor of GOOD SCHOOLS and they have them too. And these men too, AL TURNER, WILLIAM BRANT and JOHN S. VIOLET are in favor of GOOD SCHOOLS. Their past record proves it. Do you want GOOD SCHOOLS? Then vote for THEM! Then, too, remember that the Otway building has the 3 rooms in first story with folding partitions, so that the public as well as the school may have a place for "Community Meetings." Thus the "Community Center" idea carefully carried out as far as it could be with the money available. This is another instance where the PRESENT COUNTY SCHOOL ADMINISTRATION has participated in the "Promotion of Community Interests." While J. Rickey, WIDELY BUT UNFAVORABLY KNOWN and J. Gerlach, even less popular, if that be possible, have by their work AGAINST SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT WHERE THEY LIVE, opposed it and THEY HAVE NEVER DENIED IT. BOTH have been asked to show WHAT THEY HAVE DONE and neither have answered. No person who favors GOOD SCHOOLS will vote for them or their "cousins in distress" for he is in bad company from that standpoint, GOOD SCHOOLS will say the least. But GOOD SCHOOLS people will take no chance on this question and they will vote for JOHN S. VIOLET, AL TURNER and WILLIAM BRANT.

YES, VOTERS, WOULDNT THEY LIKE TO GET AWAY FROM THE REAL ISSUE, GOOD SCHOOLS? For more than a week now THEY HAVE REFUSED TO ANSWER OUR QUESTIONS, which we did show their proper location and to know beyond the shadow of a doubt that WILLIAM BRANT, AL TURNER and JOHN S. VIOLET ARE SAFE MEN, and worthy of election at the polls.

THEY ARE CORNERED AT LAST:

Driven with their backs to the river's bank by the real campaign issue GOOD SCHOOLS, they are frantic, pulling their hair in wild orgies of insinuating vilification. Now they say BETTER SCHOOLS. May Heaven have mercy on their hypocritical souls! BETTER SCHOOLS? IF ONLY THEY MEANT IT, BUT THEIR RECORD DISPROVES IT. A BETTER SCHOOLS cry from them! After, with very little exception, that small band of disgruntled and revengeful men, that clique (a thing they pretend to condemn) HAS FOUGHT CONSTRUCTIVE SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT IN THEIR OWN DISTRICT CONSISTENTLY and ALWAYS, yes fought that development that would have secured BETTER SCHOOLS—for them to cry BETTER SCHOOLS when they as individuals, J. Rickey and J. Gerlach, for example, have done all they could to prevent BETTER SCHOOLS? How much better schools Scioto County would now have, had these men used only a little of that energy now displayed by assisting County Superintendent McCowan instead of opposing with all their might, everything he tried to do for CONSTRUCTIVE SCHOOL DEVELOPMENT. THEY WOULD NOT CO-OPERATE, they would not offer plans for improvement when requested, so to do, but they would oppose all plans suggested! And then to cry BETTER SCHOOLS? What do they mean by BETTER SCHOOLS? We have been showing WHAT WE HAVE DONE and there is more of that than we can tell in the time and space at hand. AGAIN, gentlemen, WHAT HAVE YOU DONE? Isn't that an awful nightmare to you, WHAT HAVE YOU DONE? HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO GET AWAY FROM YOUR RECORD? Even by insinuation and POISON and VENOM and ANYTHING to get the SPOT-LIGHT OFF YOUR RECORD! BUT YOU CAN NOT. THE PEOPLE say YOU MUST STAND UPON IT AND BE DEFEATED.

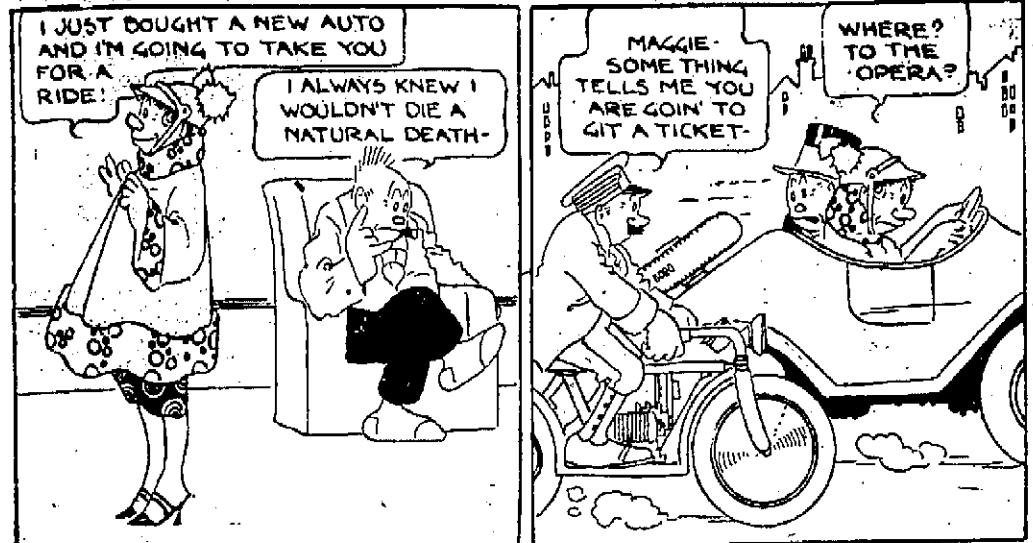

These men stand on their record, AL TURNER, WILLIAM BRANT and JOHN S. VIOLET, capable, intelligent and TRUTHFUL men, men who will NOT MISREPRESENT.

And "they hoped it would not be necessary to enter into public personal controversy in this campaign! After their daily vitriolic attacks on Superintendent McCowan for four weeks by the man who J. Brant said at a Court House meeting, so it is reported, had a POISON PEN. A poison pen! Yes, it is said that the writer against McCowan had a poison pen. Yes, he did indeed have a poison pen, as all now know who read and then, hypocrisy again! You try to make the people think you are not the aggressor! After you doubtless must have had PREMEDITATED ASSASSINATION OF REPUTATION in mind!

No! Be assured that Superintendent McCowan is not fighting for his job, but for GOOD SCHOOLS. He is NOT the issue but they would like to make him the issue. And it's bad luck for them that they did. It is not a question of whether he wants to be County Superintendent or not, it is not a question of whether he could be County Superintendent or not! But it is a question of the kind of men who shall make the County Board of Education. IT IS a question whether the County Board of Education will have RIGHT VISION, whether it will be for GOOD SCHOOLS. IT IS a question whether the people have a County Board that will employ only an efficient and competent County Superintendent who can and will stand for what's right in school work. With the wrong kind of a County Board you would never have the right kind of a County Superintendent, except by occasional accident, but with the right kind of a County Board you will always have the right kind of a County Superintendent and not at all necessarily McCowan! And AL TURNER, WILLIAM BRANT and JOHN S. VIOLET are not committed to him or to anyone else. They reserve the right to consider the question on its merit, at the proper time. J. Brant said they were committed to there be MISREPRESENTED. He can't get away from it. Is that the kind of quality or proper characteristic for a man to have who wants to be a member of the County Board of Education? The PEOPLE say NO, in thunderous tones! And the PEOPLE will have their way. And they ought! And JOHN S. VIOLET, WILLIAM BRANT and AL TURNER are of the PEOPLE and with the PEOPLE and have the confidence of their neighbors and of the PEOPLE generally! Has J. Rickey the confidence of his neighbors? Ask his neighbors at Harrisonville or where he lives and elsewhere and see!

And you ask Superintendent McCowan some question, do you? Without you having answered even one of ours? (But only one-third of one and don't you wish you hadn't done that?) YOU ANSWER OUR QUESTIONS TRUTHFULLY AND SUPERINTENDENT McCOWAN WILL ANSWER YOURS IN AN UNCERTAIN WAY. IT'S UP

NEITHER DOYLES NOR NEWMANS OWNED A GUN

Last Link Necessary To Disprove
Suicide Theory Is Made; Officials
Baffled By Double Murder Mystery

City and county officials Wednesday seemed to be at a loss to obtain the remotest information that would lead to a tangible clue in the double murder of John W. Newman and Miss Louise Doyle.

They are again inclined to believe

A Real Remedy
For Falling Hair

There's good news for all men and women whose hair is falling out, who are growing bald and have scalp covered with dandruff. That baldness and dandruff of any good detergent can now supply you with the genuine Parisian sage (liquid form), which is guaranteed to quickly, surely and effectively remove all dandruff, stop hair falling and falling hair and promote a new growth or money refunded. Thousands can testify to its excellence, some of the leading stores in their abundant hair, while others who suffered for years with dandruff and itching head got a clean, cool scalp after just a few days' use of this unique treatment.

No matter whether bothered with falling hair, gray hair, matted, striny hair, dandruff or itching scalp try Parisian sage. It is the scientific preparation that supplies all hair needs.—Advertisement.

that jealousy or revenge prompted the double killing and are working diligently in the hopes of unearthing a reasonable clue.

A rumor was current last night that two young men had heard some one say that two men had been paid to kill Newman and Miss Doyle. As soon as these men could be located and asked to verify the report they hurried off as being made out of the whole cloth.

When asked today if there at any time had been a revolver around her home, Mrs. Dollic Doyle, mother of the slain girl, stated that she never saw a gun around her home. There never had been and there would be no occasion to have one. "My family has a horror of pistols and we never had any kind of a gun around our home," Mrs. Doyle told a Times man today.

When asked a similar question today, Mrs. John Newman stated most emphatically that her husband never had a gun around the house, or in his machine, and that so far as she knew he never owned any.

With this information at hand, the officials today set out to plan a systematic and thorough search for the gun-user, believing more than ever that his underlying motive of the murder was jealousy or revenge.

Coroner Hendrickson, Sheriff Rickey and Detective Fred Baker cling to the same theory, that of jealousy, and they are convinced that if a tangible clue is worked up, it will be found.

"Louise said that Newman seemed to be proud of his family and talked about it to employees who worked with or near him, but I attached no importance to this and of course had no reason to believe that my daughter was meeting Newman," Mrs. Doyle said.

An investigation among possibly 200 Executive employees failed to reveal a single person who ever saw the couple together. Girl friends of the dead girl who have remained loyal to her, vigorously deny the report that Newman frequently accompanied Miss Doyle to within a square of her home. "Why I walked home often, in fact almost every day with Louise, and this could not have taken place unless I would know something about it," one of Miss Doyle's friends said today.

When asked if her husband ever received any threatening letters, Mrs. Newman said she had seen all of her husband's mail and he did not receive any letters of this character.

With but meager information to work on, the officials are not despairing of any hope of securing a clue. Sheriff Rickey said today that he had several new angles to the affair, but nothing was ready for publication. "It is one of the most mysterious affairs I have ever tried to unravel and it will take a good deal of hard work to run down the murderer," the sheriff says.

The young men who at various times called on Miss Doyle or had been established within her company have established perfect alibis and the officials have given them a clean bill. From the beginning it was not even believed that they knew anything about the double murder.

HEALTHFUL VIGOR
IN STRONG BLOODRich, Red Blood Built Up By Pepto-Mangan—Liquid
Or Tablet

Blood is strong and full of life-giving vigor when there are plenty of red cells in it. Anemic people have little strength because there are not enough red cells in the blood. It is thin and watery. Weak blood makes faces pale, pulls down the strength and leaves the body tired, weak and sickly.

A course in Gude's Pepto-Mangan restores weak blood to its normal strength. Taken regularly for a while it adds red cells to the blood. Then with good blood, the strength and vigor of health return. There is pleasure in living, with good blood running through the veins. Gude's Pepto-Mangan is put up in liquid and in tablet form. They are the same medicine. Physicians have prescribed Gude's Pepto-Mangan for years. The name "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package—advertisement.

The murder was committed until the bodies were found. This is in a serious handicap as the murderer would have time to regain his normal composure.

All officials now share in the murder theory and believe that the only motive could have been jealousy or revenge. But where and who is the gun-user?

The young men who at various times called on Miss Doyle or had been established within her company have established perfect alibis and the officials have given them a clean bill. From the beginning it was not even believed that they knew anything about the double murder.

Indications are that the gun-user may have been some revengeful or fancied lover of Miss Doyle, who knew that she was meeting Newman. But was she meeting Newman with any degree of frequency? Relatives and friends of the girl cannot believe this as Miss Doyle has always borne a good reputation and was a home-loving girl.

The mystery seems to deepen.

AFFIDAVIT OF WILLIAM BENNETT

State of Ohio, Scioto County, ss:

William Bennett, being first duly sworn, deposes and says as follows:

At the election held in November 1919, he was elected one of the members of the Board of Education of Madison Township of Scioto County, Ohio, receiving 88 votes, being 11 majority over his next highest opponent.

Shortly thereafter he received notice from the Township Clerk, also being the Clerk of the Board of Education, that he was one of the elected members of the Board. Thereafter he received another notice from the Clerk that the Board of Education had proceeded to canvass the vote and had declared D. M. Rambo elected instead of himself.

Following this notice a suit in mandamus was instituted in the Courts and it was decided that he, William Bennett, was entitled to the office. On the 5th day of January, 1920, he appeared before the Board of Education for the purpose of assuming his office, having previously been duly sworn in, and the Board refused to recognize him as a member or to permit him to act in that capacity.

Before this meeting of the Board adjourned, County Superintendent E. O. McCowan, who was present at the meeting, addressed the Board and stated that he did not see why Mr. Bennett could not be seated at that time; that he felt friendly toward Mr. Bennett and hoped Mr. Bennett felt friendly toward him, and proposed that if said Bennett would have his friends withdraw the suit against the bond issue then pending, and have his friends favor or support the bond issue, and if the said Bennett would be for the bond issue, he did not see why he could not be seated.

Supt. McCowan then asked to hear from Mr. Bennett to which Mr. Bennett replied: "Mr. McCowan, the people of Madison Township elected me as their servant, and I will not go to them and dictate what they shall do, but when they shall come to me and tell me what they want me to do, I will do it."

Affiant says that he was not seated at that meeting but at a later date received a notice from the Clerk of the Board of Education, stating that the Board had canvassed the vote under the order of the Court, and had found that he, William Bennett, had received the majority of votes over the said D. M. Rambo, and was recognized as a member of the Board at its next meeting thereafter.

For verification of this statement, the public are given the names of the following persons who were present and know what transpired, Morton Brane, J. N. Deyer, T. W. Allard, Geo. McLaughlin and Allen Kallner. And further deponent sayeth not.

WM. BENNETT.

While household labor is not the ceaseless round of toil it used to be, many women still are doing much unnecessary work.

Take baking, for instance. Why will women continue to bake, when it means neither economy or better health? It is an out-of-date, wasteful practice.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—Oil shares again monopolized speculative attention at the opening of today's stock market, repeating their recent conflicting movements. Royal Dutch whose merger with Union Oil is expected to be ratified today sustained an initial loss of 24 point, and Mexican Petroleum registered a similar decline. Domestic oils stabilized and the nominal dealings in rails, steels and equipments were irregular. In the foreign exchange market German marks again became actively weak, a bid of 50, a new low record, being reported.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 2—(OIL shares again monopolized speculative attention at the opening of today's stock market, repeating their recent conflicting movements. Royal Dutch whose merger with Union Oil is expected to be ratified today sustained an initial loss of 1/2 point, and Mexican Petroleum registered a similar decline. Domestic oil stocks steadied and the nominal dealings in rails, steels and equipments were irregular. In the foreign exchange market German marks again became settled, weak, a bid of 50 a new low record, being reported.

We Are Not Satisfied With "Good Schools"

WE WANT BETTER SCHOOLS

More Questions For YOU To Answer, Mr. McCowan

Somebody is bringing or mailing them in every day, and if some are omitted from this list it is because we haven't room or because the question is too personal, or because it would bring someone's name into this public controversy.

1 Aren't you and your favored helpers working harder for the election of the candidate than they are themselves?

2 Will not these candidates be very greatly indebted to you even tho' they say they are not pledged?

3 And wouldn't you get about any further increase in salary you might ask for, or any other favor you might request?

4 And won't you too be under pretty deep obligations to some of those who are working so hard for you?

5 Do you, or have you, conceived, written, dictated, or censored any of the advertisements that have appeared in your behalf?

6 Do you command them?

7 Do you know and realize that the school boys and girls all over Scioto County are reading these advertisements and forming conscious or unconscious opinions of you?

8 What are they thinking? What impressions are their young minds forming? The kind that makes for good schools? One of respectful admiration? Or suspicion and disrespect?

9 Isn't it the ambition of every parent that their children be clean of speech, straight forward, sincere, respectful, and well bred?

10 Judged by these simple virtues, how does their present Super-vision of Education rank? Do parents wish their children to use such language? To copy after the pattern held up before their eyes?

11 Or don't you care, just so you are elected?

12 Did you know that when you caused the Charter of Valley Township High Schools to be taken away THE SECOND TIME, that the Board of that township sent an attorney to Columbus to INQUIRE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL OF THE STATE OF OHIO AS TO YOUR AUTHORITY FOR REMOVING IT?

13 Didn't say that THERE WAS NO POWER IN THE STATE

14 THAT WAS INVESTED WITH THE AUTHORITY TO HARM OR INJURE A SCHOOL BY TAKING AWAY ITS CHARTER SIMPLY BECAUSE THAT POWER DIDN'T HAPPEN TO LIKE THE BOARD OR THE SCHOOL?

15 Didn't he say in substance that the School and the Charter BE LONGED TO THE CHILDREN and that IT MUST BE RETURNED?

16 And WASN'T IT RETURNED NEEXT DAY?

17 Why, Mr. McCowan, did you go so far as to FORCE A PEOPLE TO APPEAL TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL FOR PROTECTION OF ITS SCHOOLS from your vengeance?

18 Wouldn't any man whose life's devotion was for good schools

19 have known this, without having to have it pointed out to him by law?

20 CAN YOU DEFEND YOUR ACTION? WAS YOUR ACT CONSTRUCTIVE OR WAS IT DESTRUCTIVE?

21 Is that your method of establishing harmony, of securing co-operation?

22 Haven't you exhibited the same dominating spirit in other Townships?

23 And isn't that one good reason so many people oppose you, because you must have absolutely your own way, or you won't co-operate?

24 Can good schools thrive under such leadership?

25 The deceased was taken ill on Labor Day with a nervous breakdown and later developed complications which caused death.

Mrs. Fisher had been married twice. Besides her husband, John Fisher, she leaves four sons: Will McGlone and Charles McGlone, of Portsmouth; Edward McGlone, of Cincinnati; and John McGlone, in the west, and three daughters: Catherine, Margaret and Helen Fisher, all at home.

For some time Mrs. Fisher had been a member of Trinity church, this city. Burial will be in Greenhain.

GET YOUR TICKETS FOR THE CIRCUS

Yes, and there'll be performing animals and a clown band, and sideshows, 'n everything!

The "Circus" on Thursday night at the First Presbyterian church is attracting a large share of attention among those who still have the spirit of youth in their hearts; and as for the younger element of the congregation, they can scarcely wait till the hour arrives.

The "Big top" will be in the gymnasium where the Boy Scouts, with Fred Price, Sr., and Harry Wagner as ringers, promise a hippodrome that will make the Foreign-Sells-John-Robinson combinations all jealous. Close to the main tent will be the inevitable side-show, where the husbands of the Guild members, whose idea it is, will display their charms and abilities for an admiring audience. Frank Baker, as the living skeleton, Earl Hammel as the snake-chaser, O. J. Detzler as the strong man, Fred Marsh as the fat lady, Bobbie Boyd and Joan Marsh as Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thumb, are some of the headliners. A fortune-teller, whose name and complexion for sunburn reasons must be kept dark, will as usual scan the past and reveal the future. Punch will proceed to have a gay time and finally say Mrs. Judy.

Members of the congregation are urged to bring their entire families, so that they may all enjoy it together, and the Sunday school is expected to be out in force.

Big Crowd Enjoyed Masquerade

More than 100 men and women attended the masquerade held last night by the Ladies of the Macalees in their hall. Sixth and Clifton streets. Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to Miss Edna Lust and George King. The Novelty Sextette furnished the music for the dancers until a late hour.

Through a mistake an overcoat was taken last night by one of the guests. The coat should be returned to Harry Huddleston at the hall.

The committee in charge of the masquerade consisted of Mrs. Rose Heider, Mrs. Bessie Cooper, Mrs. Nedie Little, and Mrs. Violin Tilton.

Peeved Because Team Was Clearly Outplayed Ironton Tanks Are Rapping Capable Officials

It is a well established fact that for several weeks members of the Ironton Tanks and football lovers of that city chattered for Hamilton and Eichenthal to handle the Portsmouth-Linton gridiron classic.

Arrangements to this end were completed last week as Hamilton and Eichenthal were on the job in this inter-city struggle last year and their services were eminently satisfactory. Ironton won, of course. The Smokehouse team lost, took its defeat gracefully and though goodness were too blind to run around and squawk about the officials handling it to them.

Now, the handed it to them but the Tanks. This year no one showed up the Tanks but the Smokehouse crew. But in their unsportsman-like manner have blamed the well-known officials for their poor showing. Now if this isn't Ironton's callibre we will quit. That is one potent reason why it never has gotten out of its swaddling clothes. As one rooster said Sunday, they have a courthouse, a神经bridge and a real hotel and the rest you can give to the Indians.

But getting down to brass tacks, it is small town stuff for the Tanks to "wetch" on the officials. It is typical and characteristic of Tankville. When the Smokehouse crew was beaten every man, woman and child in the Peacock City readily admitted that the Tanks had the better team. Now the tide has turned in favor of the Smokehouse team because the boys know football and played it right up to the handle. Come on you Tanks and Ironton fans and stand the gaff for once. These are not the days for the old gag, "blame it on the umpire." You were outplayed and the Tanks know it. Ashland and Huntington roosters frankly admitted that the Big Red team never had a look in against the Blue and White.

With a dry field on November 29 this statement will be sorely proven.

Was Good Thing For Ironton Team

Eichenthal and Hamilton made twice as much distance as the whole Portsmouth team. They oughta been in uniforms.

Taylor, the Portsmouth quarterback, was evidently not in the best of condition. He was knocked out in the first quarter by a light bump on a soft field.—Ironton Register.

Is that so? Well Brooks deliberately kneeled Taylor after he was down. He was in line trim and would have been heard from had he not been forced to leave the game. Taylor can outrun Davies any time or any of Bill Brooks' paid gridiron luminaries.

New Captain

Jack Dixon is the new captain of the Smokehouse Juniors, who will tackle Ironton Wildcubs in Ironton next Sunday. He succeeds Capt. Montgomery. The team will practice in York park tonight.

Jackson Vs. Ironton

The Jackson and Ironton HI football teams will clash in Ironton Saturday when their annual gridiron struggle will take place. The teams are about evenly matched.

Championship Game

HUNTINGTON, Nov. 2.—The eyes of every high school football fan in West Virginia will be turned toward Huntington on next Saturday when the state championship will virtually be decided between Parkersburg's big red team and Huntington's high's under-defeated eleven.

Another Booster Day

(Ironton News) The strong Lombard football team will play Charleston at Beechwood Park Sunday, and Booster Tickets are now on sale. A great game is expected. This will be Lombard's second appearance of the season on the home lot.

Strong Ashville Team Here Next Sunday

The strong Ashville, O., team, which has been beating all comers, will stack up against the Smokehouse team in Millbrook next Sunday. The game was played last night by Manager Harry Doerr of the local eleven. Ashville has beaten some of the best teams in Columbus and is sure to give the Smokehouse team turned back the tantalizing Tanks.

Officials Too Smart For Ironton Fans

The Ironton scribes are indulging in the playful pastime of panning Quarterback Progler for not mixing up his signals. They say he used only five or six plays and that they are threadbare from age. 'Tis true, brother. Your 4, 5, 6 signal was so plain and used so frequently that it players were waiting to tackle the runner when Capt. Progler called for this play in which he carries the ball. It was the old army delayed run and invariably was nipped in the bud. The Tanks evidently spent all their time talking about how badly they would trim Portsmouth instead of inventing a few new plays. And then the Poole-kenned play of trying to go to the big game handle some of the biggest games in the country. They are too well posted for poor old Camonville. The Tanks have romped over their opponents with the aid of incapable home-favoring officials.

New Officials, No Game, Ironton Says

We knew it was coming for it is characteristic of Ironton. The Register last night said:

The Portsmouth outfit was so surprised over the luck of their team in holding the Tanks scoreless that the terrible handicap, made clear first down to Portsmouth's rods and gained many more yards than the Portsmouth outfit. The Times cries over our "high-salaried players," our "big" and our "reputation," but Ironton says the Tanks are no good. Well, friends, the Tanks are no good. Well, friends, Ironton was not to score. If the Tanks are a poor outfit why,

To penalize a team 150 yards on slight technicalities has never been heard of before either in collegiate or professional football. Ironton, despite its terrible handicap, made clear first down to Portsmouth's rods and gained a fine game under just conditions. The Tanks can never consent to play with Hamilton on the field again. His desire to impede the tend is too evident. We do not care what officials Portsmouth gets, but there will be no game at Portsmouth if Don Hamilton or Eichenthal are on the field.

Speaking Of Piffle; Pipe This

(Ironton News)

The teams were pretty evenly matched, Ironton having a little advantage in the weight, while Portsmouth showed the speed. Portsmouth showed very poor judgment in tight places, while Ironton received the majority of the penalties imposed, and during the game were set back more than 100 yards by the referee, who after the same teams will play at Millbrook Park, Portsmouth, on Nov. 20.

Just Few Pickings From Puck

(Fronton Register)

On November 20 Ironton will move en masse to Portsmouth to see every tank game this season, and yet Bill Brooks was their slogan. Bill gave a splendid account of himself and kept two of his opponents busy all the time.

have romped way over yonder. Remember when "Watt" Harley, star halfback of the Portsmouth elevens, used to play with Webster? He also has cavorted around in Ohio's various backfields. And he's still quite a live old bird.

The idea now is to mould the Tanks into a combination that will cut down Portsmouth fore and aft.

Still Panning Imported Officials

(Fronton Register)

Those imported referees and umpires may be all right in a college game, but they sure do head backward in their attempts to favor the visiting team. We do not want to criticize Hamilton's work, but if that's his best, may a kind Providence help us.

The Portsmouth outfit is crowning over their tie game just as lustily as we crow over a victory. The sure are lucky to get away with a tie. It can never happen again.

For Defense of Criticism. The best armor against criticism is a thick hide and a philosophical temperament.

WHAT HAPPENED TO JOHN SMITH

JOHN SMITH is a plain worker in the republican ranks. He served on the police force under recent administrations and it is agreed that he made a good, faithful officer.

Several months ago some friends of John Smith set out to obtain some recognition for him in the way of a position under the State administration. They succeeded. That is, they got the job for John, but he was not allowed to go to work. And this is the story of it all:

A position was secured for John Smith in the prohibition enforcement bureau, under Don V. Parker. It was a job Mr. Smith was well qualified to fill. He was ordered to report in Columbus, passed inspection by Mr. Parker, and was told to get his bond, and return the next Monday for assignment to work. John came home, got his bond and told his friends about his good fortune. He reported at Columbus the next Monday for work, but there was no work for him. He hung around awhile and then came back to Portsmouth. He is still waiting.

What happened to John Smith? Simply this. Chairman Frank W. Moulton, Secretary Sam G. Harper and Representative George E. Matthews took exceptions to any republican from Scioto county receiving recognition at the hands of Governor Davis' administration, unless that republican was handicapped and branded by them. And they had not placed their collar upon John Smith. There was a hurried descent upon Governor Davis' office by cohorts of the triumvirate, headed by Mr. Matthews. Davis was having his troubles in the legislature and Matthews was standing by him on his ripper and other pet bills. In return Davis was willing to do anything his friend Matthews wanted.

Mr. Matthews protested to Davis' patronage chief, against John Smith, or any other local republican being recognized, unless he'd k'd the man. He was successful. John Smith was in Columbus, with his bond, the very day Mr. Matthews and his friends were at the Governor's office, ready to go to work. He was sent back to Portsmouth. He stands out as the victim of the rule and ruin policy of Mr. Matthews and his friends. They had no candidate for the job in question. They simply did not want John Smith to have it because he had not crawled into their presence and begged their support, did not bear their brand upon his back.

The same combination have not been tearing their shirts in efforts to land jobs for local republicans at Columbus. They concentrated on themselves and landed Sam Harper. Then they concentrated on keeping other local republicans from getting near the pie counter.

In the face of this, how can Mr. Matthews and his manager, Mr. Moulton, expect or even have the face to ask for republican voters to support Matthews for mayor on purely party grounds?

AUDITOR CHANDLER'S REPORT

CITY Auditor Chandler feels that an injustice was done him in the editorial in Tuesday's Times, in which it was charged that he had neglected to file and print in pamphlet form, the financial statement of the city, required by law, last March. Mr. Chandler showed us that the law requires the filing with the state auditor during March of each year a financial statement of the previous year. He did file this report last March. The state bureau of inspection sent a man here, Examiner Breece, who checked up and approved this report, and took a copy of it to Columbus. There are two office copies on file at the office of the city auditor, one an ink copy and the other a pencil copy. Mr. Chandler states, and we have no reason to disbelieve him, that these copies are and have been open to the inspection of the public. There is no law requiring the publication of this report last March.

But, and here is what The Times editorial was driving at, there is an elaboration of this report, an amplified report, so to speak, which it is customary to publish in pamphlet form, for the information of such taxpayers as may be interested. It is this report that is in the hands of the printer, and which The Times says should have been printed prior to the election. Mr. Chandler insists that it has not been customary to print this prior to election, and that it was not done by previous auditors, except when George Gableman was city auditor. Mr. Chandler emphatically denies holding up this report for election purposes.

The Times has no intention of misrepresenting any candidate on any ticket and therefore presents Mr. Chandler's statements to its readers. We insist, however, that this detailed report, now in the hands of the printers, should have been in the hands of taxpayers prior to election, so that facts of the previous year's work of the city administration should be readily available for the ordinary citizen. We consider it a waste of money to publish it after the election, for then it will serve no purpose, other than to adorn the files of the city auditor. If such a report is printed at all, it is with the idea of informing and guiding the voter in passing upon the stewardship of his city officials.

The Growth of Romantic Love

Dante's directions for gallant conduct in love, written about 1000 years ago, are said to be the first instance on record of gallant behavior in love affairs, and a thousand years before the love which now draws mortal women together in life devotion, came into common existence.

Conjugal love existed among the ancient Greeks, Hebrews and Romans, but the love before marriage of mortal times was unknown. Not until Dante's time, six hundred years ago, was there a revelation of "the romantic admiration of a youth for a maiden" such as is common in our civilization definitely recorded. Even Dante's emotions were ahead of his age, and Shakespeare, more than three hundred years ago, first expressed the idealism of true love before marriage.

With the lack of romantic love previous to Dante's time also existed indifference to the grandeur and beauty of Nature. Love has made great advances during the past six centuries, not only love of Nature, but love of animals and filial love. Chastebrand, two hundred years ago, depicted French conditions when he said his mother, sister and himself were transformed into statues in his father's presence, and only able to recover themselves after he left the room; and three hundred years ago children stood or knelt in trembling silence in the presence of their fathers and mothers in England.

Thus history teaches us that love and its manifestations have grown amazingly in the flight of the centuries, and taken on tenderness and a spirit of sacrifice undreamed of in ancient times. The exquisite emotions of young lovers, fondly believed to have existed through all times, are but a development of modern times unknown in past ages. And love has lightened the hardship of life for children and for adults!

A Fortunate Man

A gentleman remarked in the course of a letter to the editor a few days ago, in which he told of the absence of a business associate who had been working until twelve or one at night: "I am now taking a whiz at the late hours. I wish I could find something that would work me so hard that actually needed a vacation, but I seem to mix in enough exercise with my work never to have anybody tell me how badly I look and how much I need a vacation."

A wise and happy man! Fond of outdoor sports in his college days, he has managed during the thirty years since to retain his interest in open air and physical exercises. As a result sound health and strength are his. His good digestion which is an appetite for work is amazing. It is true that the man who loves and lives largely in the outdoors, who takes takes reasonable exercise, who walks much and eats wisely, checks the symptoms of old age for many years.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You will not serve the wedding cake with the wedding breakfast, but will have it in little boxes on a table in the hall where guests may take it as they leave. The cake may be cut and served at the table with the wedding dinner or supper.

You will, after all of the guests have arrived for the wedding meal, arrange that the newly married couple enter the dining room first.

You will not linger to talk to the bride while passing in the line at a reception.

SCENE—A cosy parlor, with dim-burning lamp. Two persons sitting very close together on a couch—a man and maid, of course.

Suddenly the youth's ardor took a painful form. He burst into verse, sighing:

You are gladness, you are sunshine,
You are happiness, I trow;
You are all to me, my darling.
That is lovely here below!

Not to be outdone, the fair damsel whispered:

You are splendor, you are glory,
You are handsome, you are true;
All there is this side of heaven
I hold, my love, in you!

Raptures! But suddenly a gruff voice broke in on their bliss, as father said sternly from the doorway:

I am lightning, I am thunder,
I'm a roaring cataract;
I am earthquakes and volcavas,
And I'll demonstrate the fact!

And he proceeded to do so.

Before Andrew

"I see they have just dug up a corner stone of a library in Greece on which was inscribed '4000 B. C.' remarked a student to a Scotchman. "What do you suppose it means?"

"It canna mean but one thing," answered the Scot solemnly: "Before Carnegie."

The Power of One

"I do hope that when I am able to vote," said the pretty young wife, "I will be as influential in politics as my husband."

"How is that?" asked her friend.

"Why, he has voted in two presidential elections, and both times his choice was elected."

A Not Worth It

The "one-gallon" customer drifted into a country store in Arkansas.

"Gimme nickel's worth of asafetida," he said.

The clerk poured it out and pushed it across the counter.

"Charge it," said the customer.

"What's your name?" asked the clerk.

"Honeyfunkel."

"Take it for nothing," said the shopman. "I wouldn't write 'asafetida' and 'Honeyfunkel' for five cents."

Wise Jottings

It's a pity a man can't dispose of his experience at cost.

Most women prefer unruly letter paper and well ruled husbands.

The practical farmer raises better crops than the theoretical agriculturist.

Some men worry because they have no work and some others worry because they have.

Our idea of a wise girl is one who can sing and knows it.

Interest sometimes assumes the role of disinterestedness for a purpose.

A wife never hates to ask her husband for money any worse than he hates to have her do it.

Her Scheme

"That's a perfectly lovely coat you have, oh, my dear."

"It ought to be. I had to accuse John three times of flirting before I managed to get it."

His Explanation

"William," said the teacher during the lesson in physiology, "what is the use of the external ear?"

William considered a moment. "I think teacher," he said, "it is mostly used to catch dirt."

Informal and Infernal

John was to have a birthday party, having attained the enormous age of six years. She was very anxious indeed to comport herself correctly and was plying her mother with questions.

"Well, dear," said her mother in answer to one concerning the advisability of saying grace before the meal, "for such an informal little party, I hardly think you need."

Accordingly, when all the little guests were seated around the table, John, from the head, announced solemnly: "Mother says this is such an infernal little party we need not say grace."

A Diplomat

"Sir," said the young man with enthusiasm as he seized the lecturer's hand and shook it warmly. "I certainly enjoyed your lecture last night very much indeed."

"I am glad to hear that," said the lecturer, "but I didn't see you there."

"No," admitted the youth, "I wasn't there."

"But," said the puzzled speaker, "how could you enjoy my lecture if you were not present?"

"Oh, I bought tickets for my girl's parents and they both went."

His Uselessness Is Passed

"Inventors seldom reap the fruit of their toil."

"That's a fact."

"The seedy man who just borrowed a dollar from me is an inventor."

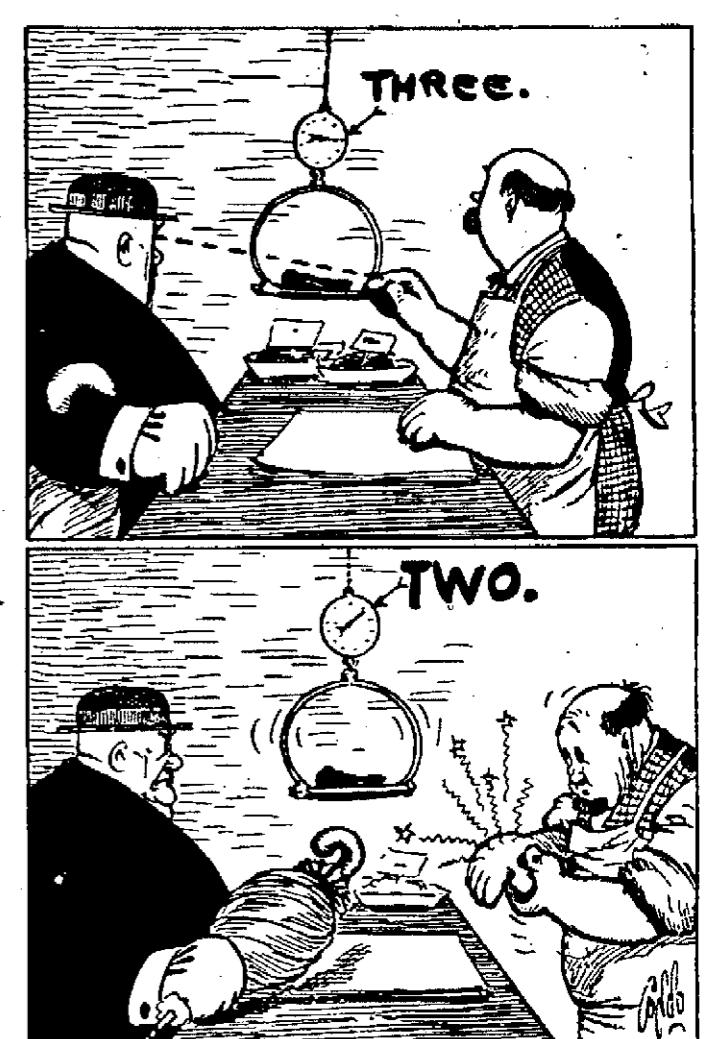

"What did he invent?"

"A cocktail."

A French inventor claims to have discovered a process of converting iron directly into steel, eliminating the expensive pig iron process.
